DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-16, drawn to an end-terminal device embodiment for performing bandwidth extension, classified in class 704, subclass 500.
 - II. Claims 17-33 and 71, are drawn to a network device signal processor embodiment for performing bandwidth extension including a derivative signal derived from a far-end speech communication signal used to generate a bandwidth extended signal, classified in class 704, subclass 500.
 - III. Claims 34-70 drawn to a network device signal processor embodiment for performing bandwidth extension including filtering to generate a plurality of filtered signals used to generate a bandwidth extended signal, classified in class 704, subclass 500.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II-III and I are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions are disclosed separately. Inventions II-III are implemented on network device, which is distinct from an end-terminal device in Invention I. As discussed in the specification, network devices do not include end-terminal devices, and are disclosed as a separate embodiment on pages 10-11, ¶26-28, and illustrated for example in Fig. 5 (network device) and Fig. 10 (end-terminal device).

Inventions of groups II and III are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the invention of group II does not require a filter. The subcombination has separate utility such a filtering to generate signals confined to a band-limited region.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group III is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed. (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
